

FrágilDiscos: MINIMALIST HAUTE COUTURE

By Tite Barbuzza

Subtle textures, transparencies and dream soundscapes pre-packaged. The independent Argentinian label FrágilDiscos launches its Spanish distribution on the net in its promotion of new and marginal sounds. "Not forgetting that the balance between body, imagination and the machine is a challenge presented to this Century, that equilibrium of body, imagination and machine is fragile". Three mini sample CDs: Sound ecstasy in pill form. RASCACIELOS, Camote Galáctico: duel of the samplers between Leo García and Gustavo Lamas, a double homage: titles reminiscent of Buenos Aires' mega discotheques of the eighties and ageless Argentinian rock compilation. OCIO, Insular: Gustavo Cerati and Flavio Etcheto put together a magical mixture of rhythm, melody and abstract texture. LEANDRO FRESCO, Vacaciones: Vocals and solitary contemplations from Patagonian latitudes shaping a personal landscape. Hard drug emotions, high voltage. Little Known fact: Angel Molina opens his devastating new album with a Fresco cover.
